

Love is not in words, but more of an expression to the point that you give all you are just to demonstrate....

GODS GIFT.....

Gods Special ONE.....

- MY DAUGHTER

This is my love letter to you never to forget as it affirms your worth in life...you are not what the world may say you are, but only my truth of you, should be foundation of you. Truth be told people will always have an opinion of who you may be, as they express their liberty to say...But what I am telling you is fact...I am proud of you. In you I am well pleased...

GODS LOVE LETTER TO YOU

Behold when as yet not even a primal dust was on my atmosphere of earth, I had you planed as an architect draws a blue print, so as to ascertain part by part in detail the materials needed for the masterpiece of creation. I the almighty took time as I am perfect in nature to create the wonder in my creation, as I have confirmed in words to you that all I do is beautiful, you for certain are not exception to this truth but are undoubtedly the manifestation of this fact not fiction nor just a sense of seemingly special. Take a moment and look at you. There are many that you may be alike to. But none is you, I have engraved marks of peculiarity in you, your hand is testimony as it bears the imprint of print that none in all my creation has, your eyes that allow you to appreciate my wonders is not out of fact that it is one and only.....all this is to say to you all the days of your life that I am the design of you therefore I place my value of my being in you...I took all that I am (FATHER-SON-SPIRIT) to make you >beauty

E-XCEPTIONAL INDEED

A-LL FOR ME

U-NDOUBTEDLY LOVED OF ME

T-REASURED OF MY CREATION

Y-OU ARE MY MASTER PIECE

To make this aloud I say to you that you are worth dying for I gave up all my splendor for a cloth of blood, my crown of glory & honor for one of thorns, my throne of majesty for a wood of cross, all this just to have come for you to tell you that you are worth all this, again I say you are worth dying for I did all this so as to have you.....back..... I lost you once remember and for that on the cross I cried to express my heart felt pain of loss, remember I took your place,

I felt your pain of being rejected because of sin I took of you. As I write this to you I still bear the mark of that time.....my love of you is who I am....I smile at your being alive by you taking my breath of life...I say to creation look at my wonder. You are worth every value I have put you at...and more to this live your worth at which I have placed you,....your value is me dying for you.....today I say I love you with all I am....I take so much interest in all about you that even the smallest detail of you is known, nothing in all creation can separate you from my love that I am to you...I love you this much to never let you go. When you call unto me I am present help. Never place your value of worth in peoples say about you as they tend to change, what then happens when they change, does it drift your worth? Not all because you are SPECIAL because you are. I have much to say to you but now I ask of you do you believe this.....

Ps you are worth the waiting for...hide your heart in me.
