

LET THE PAST GO.....

You are not free until your past has no effect on your future...this statement is powerful to Note. Allow me to make mention of this fact “you are not defined by anything in the past That you may done or went through regardless the extent to which it was”, therefore you are not yesterday, but this is who you are by reason of Gods truth of word being the foundation of who you are

1 (You are a fulfillment of Gods desire an expression of His Love): Love is not love until it Shares itself so this is to say when God made you He was saying I Love You to give you life, Remember in john3vs16 these words “For God so love the world so much that He gave His only beloved son” allow me to point out the facts, the term world is not primarily the earth, >world means people, so when personalized it would read “for God so loved You that He gave. Look at this because of love He gave; now think for a moment why would God give his one and only Son just for you if you are not worth the Love? So it is also true that (you are worth Gods Love because He gave), this makes true the statement that you are an expression of God’s love

2 (You are a good person): in Genesis1vs31 it reads “when God looked everything that He had made and He was very pleased” now here is another interesting question how can God say He is very pleased when you are not good enough to Him, surely God is pleased in you being alive, let me put it out to you in bold God is well pleased to have given you life; you are not a mistake God is saying in effect that am not ashamed of you. Think about this...

3(You are created to prosper and have a good life): in Jeremiah29vs11 God says “I alone know the plans I have for you, plans to bring you prosperity and not disaster, and plans to bring about the future you hope for”. Look at these details (i)I alone this is to say God is independent from influence of the devil and people, so here you see that when it comes to anything concerning you He is free from any ones say about you but only what He says, remember God is good, so then all He plans for you is good not failure, sickness, disappointments’ and anything that is not of good standard.

(ii) You hope for: here you see that God has your best interest at HEART He wants so much to prosper you, those hopes for the future He knows and is committed to you. You are not all alone after all God is with you

4 You are a show to this world as His wonder Isaiah43vs21 God says of you “this people have I made for myself; they shall show forth my praise” again allow me to point out the following

1 this people here God is talking about you

2 Have I made: this is to say again God alone made you free from any ones influence.

3 For myself: here God was making a point to say you are His therefore are to live a life in line with his world not to please anyone else but only Him cause you will only answer to Him only if you were to waste your life.

4 They shall show forth my praise: this is a guarantee to say when God made you He put within you the abilities to manifest these wonders in you, indeed true to this so much potential is present in you to change this generation, your success is good for God because of this statement for my praise from here we arrive home to success, good health, a good life, think of all the good things. Why because they are a reflection on God. By this I mean because of who God is by reason of you being a show of His praise...not evil things. Only praise this is why you exist to show forth God's praise in all areas of your Life because it is who God is. Therefore Bringing change to this Generation is present in you; you are capable of more than what others expect, even beyond your extravagant dream, unexposed, dormant potential rests beneath the surface of your daily existence, waiting to be discovered and released, though seeing this to its full manifestation can be limited by past mistakes, regrets, wrong choices, friends in question, people's opinions towards you but mainly; you allowing all these things in mention to be the standard of your life, certainly people have the liberty to say what they think you are but then what God has said of You is truth to be told and only to be considered. Now let us look in detail about past mistakes.....

You may be saying yes this is true but you do not know what I have done, by that I mean my mistakes, the wrong choices or the pain I have been through. Remember the earlier statement "You are not free until your past has no effect on your future" did you know that you are given time so that you do not attach yourself to a faze. All that is in the past are simply fazes, never let a faze define you! Why is this? You and I have agreed that God is true to his word, then consider this in psalms 117vs2 "But His merciful kindness is great towards us and the truth of Lord endures forever" look at these details

1 His merciful kindness! Again here it bring to our attention that it is God's mercy, so it does not need any ones else opinion of you, also this word mercy means "kindness shown in not punishing a wrongdoer severely" but here it says merciful kindness and great towards us, this brings to light the life changing truth that God is full of mercy towards you, more to this in lamentations3vs21_23 "21 I recall to my mind, therefore I have hope. 22 it is of the Lords mercies that we are not consumed, because His compassions fail not, 23 they are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness. By Gods word you are now clear about his mercy for you more than ever, because of God's compassion you have hope for the best future, so indeed we can boldly say there is much hope for you. Let us look at one fact in the bible, did you know that King David committed adultery and murder by taking up a woman who was his most trusted soldier in his army, as the matter of fact this man at one time lay down his life just to save his king. Imagine this you have a friend you love so much that on many occasions you go out of your way just to be a friend indeed not that you do not have a choice, but in spite of all this your friend betrays you by taking what you love and cherish so dear to your heart, as that is not enough your friend even goes to the extent of killing you. Think about that. But that is not compared to what David did, consider this also it is for a fact that King David had more than one wife, being King he could marry any woman; but still he killed someone's wife after committing adultery. In our time what could be said of this person.....what would you say? But look at this in psalms51 David has understanding of what God has been speaking to you about today... mind you these are King David's words. Be merciful to me o God because of your constant love. Because of your great mercy wipe away my sins, wash away all my evil ways and make me clean from my sins I recognize my faults I am always conscious of my sins. Let us jump to vs. 6 of this chapter sincerity and truths are what you desire in me... may I present to you the steps to letting off your mistakes or should I say the past.

1 it is imperative to be honest with yourself by admitting where you were wrong and take responsibility of your actions, mind you this is towards God.

2 asking for forgiveness were you missed it in life, by knowledge of God's mercy towards you; this is where you come to God In full knowledge of His sure mercy that you now know of! Now this is not all, you have a part to play also which is found in Isaiah43vs18 God says “Do not cling to events of the past or dwell on what happened long ago watch for the new things I am going to do, it is happening already you can see it I will make a road through the wilderness and give you streams of water there. Here you see God is saying to you today that let the past go, regardless what it is, why because of his mercy (“kindness shown in not punishing a wrongdoer severely”) remember the words God said to you in john3vs17 “God did not send His Son into your life to judge you but to be your savour” here it is clear that God is not holding anything against you but He is through Jesus saving you, remember that in 2corinthians5vs21 Christ was without sin but for our sake he became that sin for us who knew no sin that in him we might be made the righteousness of God in Him” so truth to this Jesus was made that every sin on your behalf, to break it down in simpler terms we can say every sin that you can think of that you have committed Jesus was that sin for you, so whatever things you did wrong in the past let them go, by this reason but for our sake he became that sin for you who knew no sin that in him you might be made the righteousness of God in Him therefore you are not defined by the past but as you read earlier in psalms 117vs2 “But His merciful kindness is great towards you and the truth of Lord endures forever” here look at this detail and the truth of Lord endures forever the word that stands out is endure which means “to put up with ” so according to God His words towards you through His love does not change, it is still truth regardless the past because this in psalms103vs4 who redeems your life from the pit, who crowns you with steadfast love and mercy ask yourself this question what is your pit? God can remove from that because of his unfailing love, more to this further in psalms 103vs8 to 11

“8 the lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love.

“9 he will not always chide or will keep his anger forever

“10 he does not deal with us according to our sins, nor repay us according to our iniquities

“11 for as high are the heaven above the earth, so great is his steadfast love towards those who fear him;

You see He loves you much to not deal with you according to your sins, nor repay you according to your iniquities. You may be wondering why this is so? Because of what Jesus Christ did on the cross. Isaiah 53v4 surely He has borne our grief's and carried our sorrows; yet we esteemed him stricken, smitten by God and afflicted. “vs 5 But he was wounded for your transgressions; he was crushed for your iniquities; upon him was the punishment that brought you peace, and with his stripes you are healed.

So you have now seen that Jesus is Gods expression His love for you and has paid the price for your sins. but you are key to seeing this alive in you by faith, so today God has come to you reminding you that you are not your past but are what He says. Remember also He said earlier “I alone know the plans I have for you, plans to bring you prosperity and not disaster, and plans to bring about the future you hope for” so it is clear God is committed to your success, but you have to let go off the past and start afresh. Letting go off the past is not only limited to your mistakes. It could also be the hurts of the past, pain that you have been through people who may have done you a lot of wrong, yes you have every right to be upset it is only normal to feel pain, but that should not be the end of you. Those people do not have power over you only the power you give them by allowing what they have done wrong to be the determining factors of you, so will you allow that or you will do what God is saying to you today look at this God is saying in Isaiah 43:19 I will make a road through the wilderness and give you streams of water there what are your wildernesses? Please note that wilderness is symbolic of a hard place, where life is hard, a desert where water is almost impossible to find. But God is saying through the same place of hardship He will by his goodness give you good things if you only let the past go, so yes the pain may still be there but through it all God is making good for you, so do yourself a favor and forgive. Also it is true that you cannot change the past, so yes the past says you did this & that or some people did this & that to you. and all the mistakes that come to mind that you did, but through all these God says I will make a road through the wilderness and give you streams of water there.. Even when people say you did so and so, God is saying “I alone know the plans I have for you, plans to bring you prosperity and not disaster, and plans to bring about the future you hope for”. Let it go it is about time, forgive the people who have done you wrong release them, by now you know that no person has any power over you unless you allow them to, it could be even your family members, parents, etc. Look at this fact regardless of what anyone may have said or is saying of you God says in Lamentations 3:37 who is that; that speaks and has it happen if the lord has not declared it? Here without doubt it is clear that no one has power over your life only God's words. Forgive anyone who has hurt you with their words because you know that God's word is final. This is also part of letting off the past. The other thing you should also consider without fail is to apologize to any one for what you know you did wrong to them. Why is it so? In Psalm 51:6 it says sincerity and truth are what you desire in me... so be honest and go ahead and make peace because God desires truth in you! Swallow your pride, humble yourself...this is also part of letting go of the past, it is about time, think about it for how long are you going to keep that pain, let it go. Also this statement that most people say when they are hurt in relationships especially ladies that all guys are the same, think about it why would you say that? Because of that pain right, or what you see around, that is also not doing what God is saying that “Do not cling to events of the past or dwell on what happened long ago watch for the new thing I am going to do. So much has been said but now it remains entirely up to you to obey God's words and let off the past, there is no future to past events, you can only learn from it, but it should not limit you, let me be real with you all of us have a story to tell, so welcome we all have Messed up but Jesus has made a message out of that. God wants you to release all He gave you for the benefit of others and blessing of your own Life, most assuredly you are not just filling up a gap in life, but rather you are purposed to change this world...from today Endeavour to live in value of your worth by Christ in you. So will you make the choice and come alive to all that God is saying you are. If you have decided this is it then say this prayer.....& I am in agreement with you in Jesus name, knowing how good God has been to me I am more than confident that God does not lie nor fail.

The prayer

Father today I choose to let go off my past, have mercy on me for all the wrong things I have done, I also choose to forgive anyone who has hurt me I let go in Jesus name by your power of the Holy Spirit, today I say the past has no power over me in Jesus name by the blood of Jesus I speak a new beginning to my life I will never be the same. The old things are passed away and now new beginnings have come by the Power of God's love for me, I say God loves me so much to give me life to the full in Jesus name, Lord I also ask give me the Spirit of relations and knowledge in the things of you, open my eyes of understanding that I may know you better, also the Spirit of your fear to keep me, wisdom to guide me in every area of my life, I refuse to go back to the past..Father I also ask for healing take away all my hurts and pains I let them go because in Christ you took my place so I this day receive all your goodness, I declare concerning my life that all the days of my life I will continually see Gods goodness in every area of my life in Jesus name, by the blood of Jesus I arise to the new beginnings this day....Lord thenku it is done I will never be the same..Amen

Your name.....

Welcome to the new dawn it is your time to be the change you want to be in the world....you are a good person...the world needs you after all & you are the one to change things in your family and the world by Gods power at work in you.....

You are blessed for life!

Ps.....do not look back keep your eyes on God who is your life and foundation, God loves you so much to make this known to you...@ God's heart!

(The future is not ahead of you but within you, so every choice you make has impact to what comes your way, that is why today the past is gone now begin to make positive changes in areas of your life that you know you ought to, time changes nothing but every change is consciously and systematic effected by those who desire it. It does not come by wishing but you effect the desired change by submitting yourself to its demands. God is with you through it all. You are not in it alone, so surrender all to Him to help you. It is time more than ever to build a strong relationship with God. This will keep you from a lot of wrong choices that can greatly affect you...so make up your mind. Are you going to take God seriously or not? That is your part to answer.....my prayer for you is that you continually to walk in Gods goodness and rise up to change this generation. If others can do it so can you with God on your side, God to keep you all the days of your life. I am humbled to knowing such a remarkable person as you. Welcome to a new you!!!!)
